

K. SAMANTA ORELLANA

Postdoctoral Researcher – University of Kansas Biodiversity Institute
Entomology Division, 1501 Crestline Dr, Lawrence, KS 66045
Email: samanta.orellana@ku.edu

RESEARCH INTERESTS

- Taxonomy and systematics of fungus weevils (Coleoptera: Anthribidae).
- Entomological collections management and digitization.
- Biodiversity data accessibility for research, education and outreach.

ACADEMIC WEBSITES

- ORCID: <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-4098-5823>
- Bionomia: <https://es.bionomia.net/0000-0002-4098-5823>

EDUCATION

- 2025- Postdoctoral Researcher, Entomology and Symbiota Divisions, Biodiversity Institute and Natural History Museum, University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas, United States of America.
- 2024 Ph.D. in Evolutionary Biology, School of Life Sciences, Arizona State University, Tempe, Arizona, United States of America.
- 2018 M.Sc. in Entomology, University of Panama, Panama City, Panama.
- 2017 Postgraduate Diploma in Entomology, University of Panama, Panama City, Panama.
- 2014 B.Sc. in Biology, University of San Carlos of Guatemala, Guatemala City, Guatemala.

LANGUAGES

Spanish, English (fluent)

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- 2021-2024 Teaching and Laboratory Assistant. General Biology Department, School of Life Sciences, Arizona State University. Tempe, Arizona, USA.
- 2019-2021 Research Assistant. ASU Biocollections, Biodiversity Knowledge Integration Center, Arizona State University. Tempe, Arizona, USA.

- 2015 Research and Collection Management Assistant. BIGU Herbarium Research Unit, School of Biology, Universidad de San Carlos Guatemala, Guatemala.
- 2014-2016 Private Environmental Consultant. Environmental and Biological Studies of Guatemala, National Association of Private Natural Reserves in Guatemala, National Association of Coffee-Farmers, among others. Guatemala City, Guatemala.

MENTORSHIPS

- 2026 Project BID-REG2025-081: Increasing Open Biodiversity Information in Central America Through a Network of Digitized Scientific Collections. Biodiversity Data for Development Fund, European Union and the Global Biodiversity Information Facility. Digitization and mobilization of 25 natural history collections in Central America. University of Kansas Biodiversity Institute and Symbiota, in collaboration with University of San Carlos of Guatemala, University of El Salvador, and University of Costa Rica. Mentor and project coordinator.
- MS. in Museum Studies Capstone Project. Digitizing and Publishing Naupactini Weevil Specimen Data and Images Based on a Modern Insect Research Collection Workflow (Coleoptera: Curculionidae). Omotayo Agunbiade. Museum Studies, University of Kansas. Co-chair.
- 2021 Project BID-CA2020-031-NAC: Mobilizing natural history collections of the Dominican Republic. Biodiversity Data for Development Fund, European Union and the Global Biodiversity Information Facility. Digitization and mobilization of 12 natural history collections in the Dominican Republic. Arizona State University and Symbiota, in collaboration with Zoology and Botany Research Institute, Autonomous University of Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic.

SERVICE

- 2026-present Portal Manager. Central American Collections Portal. <https://centroamerica.symbiota.org>
- Mentor. Global Biodiversity Information Facility (GBIF). <https://www.gbif.org/mentors>
- 2023- Steering Committee Member. Ecdysis Symbiota Portal. Hosted by the Symbiota Support Hub. <https://ecdysis.org>
- 2022- Node Delegate. Symbiota Node for the Global Biodiversity Information Facility. <https://www.gbif.org/publisher/96710dc8-fecb-440d-ae3e-c34ae8a9616f>
- 2021- International Community Coordinator for Latin America. Symbiota Support Hub, iDigBio. <https://symbiota.org/contact-the-support-hub>
- 2020- Portal Manager. Biodiversity of Guatemala Symbiota Portal. Hosted by the Symbiota Support Hub. <https://biodiversidad.gt>

AWARDS AND HONORS

- 2023 Elected Student Councilor. The Coleopterists Society.
- 2016 Full Scholarship for Master's Degree Studies. Central American Regional Program, German Academic Exchange Service -DAAD- (2016-2018).

- 2016 Research Incentives Award. Research Directorate, Universidad de San Carlos de Guatemala, Guatemala City, Guatemala.
- 2015 Best Biology B.Sc. Thesis 2014-2015. Universidad de San Carlos de Guatemala, Guatemala City, Guatemala.

SCIENTIFIC OUTREACH

ORGANIZED WORKSHOPS

Introduction to Symbiota: A Tool for the Management, Mobilization, and Exploration of Biodiversity Data (in Spanish). October 2025. Organizer and Instructor. University of Kansas and Yale Peabody Museum. Lima, Peru.

Guatemala Biodiversity Portal Curators Training (in Spanish). June 2025. Organizer and instructor. Symbiota Support Hub, University of Kansas. Guatemala City, Guatemala.

Interactive Tools for the Study of Guatemalan Biodiversity (virtual, in Spanish). September 2023. Organizer and instructor. Symbiota Support Hub, Arizona State University.

A Guided Tour of the Guatemala Biodiversity Portal (virtual, in Spanish). March 2023. Organizer and instructor. Symbiota Support Hub, Arizona State University.

Natural History Collections Digitization and Mobilization with Symbiota Portals: Mexican Herbaria Network (virtual, in Spanish). November 2022. Co-organizer and instructor. Mexican Herbaria Network and Arizona State University.

Natural History Collections Digitization and Mobilization with Symbiota Portals (virtual, in Spanish). September 2022. Organizer and instructor. Symbiota Support Hub, Arizona State University.

Digitization of Natural History Collections in the Guatemala Biodiversity Symbiota Portal (virtual, in Spanish). August 2022. Organizer and instructor. Symbiota Support Hub, Arizona State University.

Introduction to Symbiota databases platform: Consortium of Small Vertebrate Collection (virtual, in Spanish). August 2020. Organizer and instructor. Biological Collections System of the School of Biology, Universidad de San Carlos de Guatemala.

Introduction to Symbiota databases platform: ecdysis (virtual, in Spanish). July 2020. Organizer and instructor. Universidad del Valle de Guatemala.

INVITED PRESENTATIONS

Systematics of Neotropical Anthribidae: Contributions from Entomological Collections (in Spanish). July 2025. Museo de Insectos, Centro de Investigación en Protección de Cultivos, Universidad de Costa Rica. San Jose, Costa Rica.

Symbiota Portals (virtual, in Spanish). September 2022. Natural History Collections Management Workshop, Instituto de Investigación de Recursos Biológicos Alexander von Humboldt, Colombia.

Digitizing Natural History Collections in Guatemala (virtual, in Spanish). September 2022. Connecting Collections Workshop Series, Society for the Preservation of Natural History Collections and the Global Biodiversity Information Facility.

Publication of Biodiversity data to GBIF from the Guatemala Biodiversity Portal (virtual, in Spanish). May 2022. Colegio de Farmacéuticos y Químicos de Guatemala.

Introduction to the Guatemala Biodiversity Portal (virtual, in Spanish). August 2021. Natural History Collections Digitization Workshop, Universidad del Valle de Guatemala.

Importance of Natural History Collections for the Study of Biodiversity (virtual, in Spanish). July 2021. Universidad Rafael Landívar, School of Agricultural Sciences. Guest speaker for the undergraduate Botany course.

Symbiota: A platform to mobilize, integrate and use natural history collections data (In Spanish). April 2021. Webinars Series, Sistema de Información sobre Biodiversidad de Colombia (virtual).

Guatemala Biodiversity Portal: Digitizing the biological collections of the country (In Spanish). March 2021. Conference Series Women in STEM: Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics, Women Who Code, Guatemala (virtual).

Digitization of Biological Collections using the Guatemala Biodiversity Portal (virtual, in Spanish). February 2021. Undergraduate Collections Management Course, Universidad de San Carlos de Guatemala.

Introduction to Coleoptera (virtual, in Spanish). November 2020. Undergraduate Entomology Course, Universidad de Costa Rica, Campus Guanacaste.

Taxonomy of Anthribidae (virtual, in Spanish). August 2020. Undergraduate Taxonomy course, Universidad de San Carlos de Guatemala.

Relevance of Entomological Collections in the Study of Biodiversity: Research Experiences in North and Central America (in Spanish). March 2020. Universidad de San Carlos de Guatemala.
